Odd Avocations.

A woman who has seen better days once had a fine house of her own, and the usual embarrassment of bric-a-brac in her drawing room, which she was accustomed to arrange herself with exquisite tastefulness. When the wolf came to her door she begged one or two of her former friends having fine mansions to employ her in arranging their drawing-rooms occasionally. With their consent she began an industry which has developed into a business. Once a month this lady—for she is a lady—goes to the houses of her patrons with her two assistants, and superintends the cleansing of the parlors, after the furniture has been removed, and then rearranges them in the most elegant style. If she finds certain articles are needed to make the room attractive, a la mode, she purchases them and puts them in place. She also selects articles of virtu, having consummate taste and judgement in such purchases, for which she receives a commission from the merchant of whom she buys. It would seem possibly an extravagance to the reader to employ any one for such a purpose, but considering the wretched careless methods of servants in New York, and the numberless articles of bric-a-brac now in vogue for drawing-rooms, it is an economy and not an extravagance to employ a woman of discretion and carefulness to keep them in order. And then our new rich people do not know how to arrange a drawing-room, and it is a comfort to them to hire some one who does know, or, rather a necessity.

Another lady, formerly wealthy, charges a good round sum per day for escorting ladies—strangers, of course—to the most elegible shops for purchasing stylish garments, furniture, etc. Still another lady acts as guide to the picture galleries, museums, and public amusements for ladies from out of town, who write to her in advance.

For many years women have been employed by ladies of fortune to go abroad and make purchases for them in Paris, London, and Berlin; in short, to buy novelties at a cheaper rate than can be purchased here and to be in advance of the modistes of New York. These (some of them) are ladies who boast that they never wear dry goods purchased in this market, everything comes "from abroad"—and if the truth were known, from second and third-rate shops in the cities where their agent finds them. Shopping on commission has grown to be an enormous business in New York. One woman engaged in it has an office and clerks; she buys furniture, jewelry—in fact, all sorts of merchandise for her customers in every state in the union; has whole wardrobes made up for ladies, for children, and infants, and has purchased artificial limbs to order. There is a commission from those she buys for and from, yielding a very good percentage in this double arrrangement. —New York letter.

"WHITE CAPS!"

The Gang of Lawless Men, Who are Terrorizing the Citizens Around New Albany, Ind.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 1.—A special from New Albany, Ind., says, that on Tuesday night a gang of lawless men in Spencer township, Harrison county, calling themselves "White Caps," took from his bed, John Hildebriant, a popular citizen, who last year was elected justice of the peace by nearly a unanimous vote, and strung him to a tree and beat him unmercifully, with hickory switches. They told him they were not pleased with his decisions, and charged him with cruelty to his family. The same night, at Depauw, they warned a saloon keeper to stop selling liquor and at Frenchtown they awakened Postmaster Paul Henrett, told him what they had been doing and ordered him, under penalty of a hundred lashes, to spread the news quick. They had previously warned a widow named Daugherty that she must not marry a young man to whom she is engaged. Her friends have organized for her protection.

Devastating Storms.

MORGAN, Texas, Sept. 1.—The hardest rain that ever fell in this county began Tuesday night, and has continued without cessation. The damage to the farmers in the low valley lands in every portion of the county is estimated at thousands of dollars. The Texas Central, and Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe railroad, is badly damaged, and it will be many days before they can move trains. Nine business houses, with all their goods, went down the Basque river; also three cotton gins and nine residences were washed away, and every house in town is damaged. At Meridan, a man was drowned in trying to save the contents of his house. Bridges were washed away, and the loss to the railroad is over $100,000.

The Insanity Dodge.

SACO, Maine, Sept. 1.—Some friends of Frank C. McNeilly, the absconding clerk of the Saco savings bank, think he is deranged. They say he has been acting very queerly and has complained of head trouble, but he has been living beyond his means ever since he worked in the bank.

THE MARKETS.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—The stock market opened generally strong at first prices, in most stocks showing advances from ⅛ to ¼ per cent. Market was active, although the business was principally in six or eight stocks. Prices advanced. At a late hour the advance was checked, and business became lighter. A reaction occurred, and in some cases early gains were lost, but at 11 o'clock the market was again firm and moderately active, generally at fractions better than first prices.

DEVILISH WORK.

A Bold Attempt to Wreck a Passenger Train at Pekin, Ill., for the Purpose of Robbery.

PEKIN, Ill., Sept. 1.—A bold attempt was made last evening on the Indiana, Bloomington and Western railroad to wreck the passenger train that left Pekin at 8 o'clock, at Leslie Station, six miles east of this city. The east and west bound passenger trains are due here at 8 o'clock and a large stone, weighing a couple hundred pounds, was placed between the rails of the main track. The east bound passenger train had slowed up for a passenger at Leslie Station, when the engine struck the stone, throwing it over, and the forward truck left the track. The train was delayed nearly an hour. The only theory given for this devilish work is that of robbery.

THE B. & O. EXPRESS.

The Gossip About Its Reported Sale, and Mr. Garrett's Desire to Sell Other Interests.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 1.—The Baltimore and Ohio Express to-day passed into the hands of the United States Express Company, and its employes notified of the change. Speaking of the sale, Mr. John E. Cowan, the counsel for the Baltimore and Ohio Company, said: "The statement that the B. & O. Express has been sold to the U. S. Express Company is not correct. There has been simply a contract entered into between the two companies by which the United States Express is to run the Baltimore and Ohio for thirty years, for which the former is to pay the latter Company a certain percentage of the earnings." It is now very generally believed here that the sale of the Express is not the last of the deals of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad. Special dispatches from New York render it conclusive to the minds of many prominent business men that the telegraph system of the company will soon pass into other hands if the negotation is not already concluded. The impression also prevails that Mr. Garrett is anxious to dispose of the road and the announcement of its sale at any time will create no surprise here.

SEWER CASUALTY.

Inspector Fallahee, Henry Tilbery and John Eber Badly Hurt.

Yesterday afternoon the Griffith street sewer, now in course of construction, was the scene of a very severe accident. Inspector Pat Fallahee, Henry Tilberry and John Eber were standing on a plank crossing over the sewer. The temporary bridge was used to lower material into the sewer and was deemed safe.

Before the three men above named could realize their danger the boards gave way under them and all fell fifteen feet into the ditch. They were in a tangled mass when the workmen rescued them and carried them out of the hole.

Tilberry was very severely injured about the back, and was entirely helpless. Young Eber fared better, but he, too, was taken to the St. Joe hospital, under the care of Dr. W. H. Myers.

Mr. Fallahee, who was sewer inspector under City Civil Engineer Goshorn, was bruised and hurt internally. He lies at his home in the Sixth ward, but in a few days he will be at work again.

ROBBED THE K. OF L.

The Co-operative Store Broken Into by Burglars Who Make a Small Haul.

Some time last night thieves broke into the Knights of Labor co-operative store, managed by Councilman Buttenbender in the Garvey block, on Calhoun street. The burglars first forced their way into the cellar, but failing to open the door leading up to the store, they retraced their steps and proceeded to a side entrance. This door they pushed in without apparent trouble, and then their work was easy.

The store has no safe, and the cash drawer was easy of access. In a box the rascals found $7.50, but in the goodness of their hearts overlooked $28 in a drawer adjoining.

Mr. Buttenbender cannot tell what goods were taken, but he considers himself lucky.

Marriage of Miss Nellie Brown.

[Lafayette Courier.]

The many friends of Miss Nellie Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Brown, of this city, and Will P. Cooper, city editor of the Fort Wayne Gazette, will be surprised to learn of their marriage which will occur this evening at Racine, Wis. The contracting parties are first cousins, and under the laws of Indiana, could not be wedded in this state. John Brown, of S. C. Curtis & Co., and Miss Alice Brown, of this city, brother and sister of the bride, will be present at the marriage. The young couple, after a short honeymoon in Chicago, will return to Fort Wayne. Mr. Cooper is one of the brightest young newspaper men in northern Indiana, and a most excellent gentleman. Miss Brown is an artist of no mean ability, a graduate of the New York Art Schools, and a most accomplished lady. She has for some time had charge of the society department of the Fort Wayne Gazette, and conducted it with marked ability. The Courier adds its most sincere well wishes to the happy union.

The Passion Play.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Sept. 1.—The authorities has prohibited a sacreligious representation of Christ and the virgins in a passion play by colored people last night.

Capitalists in Rags.

While thousands of deserving poor are daily dying of slow starvation, there are in Paris gangs of professional beggars, like the "gueux" referred to in Beranger's song, who are a happy race. Only a few days ago a chiffonier, who would not pay his rent in the Belleville quarter, was ejected from his premises by force, and as the huisser's men were bustling him out a sum of money, in gold and silver, amounting to nearly £80, rolled out of his rags. There is also an old story of a Parisian blind beggar who was stationed every day on one of the bridges, and to whom a passing Samaritan once gave a gold louis instead of a franc. Having discovered his mistake the almsgiver went back to the beggar, but found that he had left his post. After having made inquiries in the neighborhood, the person obtained the medicant's address, whither he repaired in the evening. He found the blind man installed in a comfortable villa, the door of which was opened by a tidy servant, who said that her master was at dinner and could not be disturbed. The stranger, however, made known his errand, and the beggar sent down a message by his man, saying that it was quite possible that he had taken a louis for a franc, but that he had not yet made up his account for the day. Finally, the almsgiver was told to meet the blind man on the bridge next day, and the error, if any, would be rectified. Only recently a true narrative of the same sort, but with a slight variation, was told by M. Thivet before the tribunal of corectional police, where a man named Samuel was being tried for begging. Samuel is about 64 years old, and was in the habit of begging from house to house. When arrested he was found living in a comfortable apartment in the Rue Commines, for which he paid £5 a year as rent. An account-book was also found in his rooms, in which he entered his takings. These in some cases amounted to 20 francs, or 15 shilling, in one day. Mr. Thivet, the prosecutor, said that in December last Samuel went to his house and represented himself as a commercial traveler temporarily out of employment, having a wife and family in destitution. He gave him two francs, but seeing him next day going into another house he watched him and found him begging. He then had him arrested as a professional mendicant, which was proved by the account-book found in his rooms. The tribunal ordered Samuel to be sent to jail for two months.—Paris letter.

The Leper Colony.

Touching at Molokai, we were afforded an excellent opportunity for inspecting the leper colony established there. Many of these unfortunates were found to be in the last stages of the disease. The sight of these poor creatures would serve to excite the curiosity of only the most morbid nature. Their cheerfulness, even when rendered incapable of locomotion by the ravages of the disease, is somewhat remarkable, while their number includes many Europeans, the Chinese being by far in excess of all nations. The disease is said to be rather constitutional in character than a result of cutaneous inoculation, as might be erroneously supposed. Science, however, has not been enabled to do much toward relieving the sufferings of these poor people, although their wants appeared to be generously provided for through the liberality of the government and that of foreign residents. The disease is contagious, while the hopeless misery of many of the victims in Hawaii would justly excite the pity of any beholder. One feature of the disease, as explained by my informant, is the fact that there are many persons living at Molokai who for years prior to their arrival there as patients had been living in various parts of the kingdom in utter ignorance of the appalling fact that leprosy was insidiously attacking the system. One instance in point was that of an aged Catholic priest, who discovered his deplorable condition only after an accidental breaking of a lighted lamp. It followed in his case that while removing some of the hot fragments in his effort to prevent any further damage, he found that he had lost the sense of feeling in his right hand. Instantly divining that he was afflicted with the dread malady, he heroically sought refuge among others at the leper settlement on Molokai, where I believe he died several years since.

DYNAMITE DOINGS!

A Farmer Literally Blown to Pieces While Blasting Stumps With Dynamite Cartridges.

LOGANSPORT, Ind., Sept. 1.—A horrible accident occurred on John Hill's farm, about five miles east of here, yesterday, by which Henry Pletcher lost his life. He was blasting stumps with dynamite, and had about fifty cartridges in his possession, By some unknown means they were all exploded and Pletcher literally blown to pieces. Mr. Pletcher came from Elkhart, where his parents reside.

A BIG BRIDGE.

The Bids Opened for the Spy Run Avenue Structure.

County Commissioners Hartman, Brannan and Gloyd convened in their room after dinner to-day, and just before 3 o'clock they opened bids for the new bridge to span the St. Mary's river at Spy Run avenue. The bids for the bridge proper were as follows:

Columbus Bridge Company, $28,997.
Motherwell Iron and Steel Company, of Logan, Ohio, $27,100.
Indiana Bridge Company, $28,850.
Ore Iron Bridge Company, $28,249.
Champion Bridge Company, $29,875.
King Bridge Company, $28,500.
Smith Bridge Company, Toledo, $27,999.
Graton B. & M. Co., 28,975.
Morse Bridge Company, $29,150
Massillon Bridge Company, $27,750.

As will be seen, the Motherwell Iron and Steel company, of Logan, O., are the lowest bidders and to them it is probable the commissioners will award the work to-morrow.

The bidders on the abutments were: Barney Mittendorf, Henry C. Paul, Wm. Moellering, John A. Koehler, Philip Lindlag and Smith Bussel. Paul and Bussel are apparently the lowest bidders and it will take close figuring to decide between them. The abutments will cost about $10,000, so that it is fair to figure on a $40,000.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 1.—Four boys were picked up by policemen here today, the oldest only twelve years of age, who have been wandering southward from Chicago for a week, and just arrived here to-day. Daily Sentinel

THURSDAY, SEP. 1, 1887.

THE way to make public improvements is to make them at once and not linger about them all summer.

COUNTY conventions are almost a thing of the past. Primary elections, where all can have a voice in selecting a ticket, are coming to the front.

THE Duckworth and Jefferson democratic clubs, of Cincinnati, will be present in full force at Indianapolis on the occasion of President Cleveland's visit to that city.

THE business of attempting to insult the president is not as popular with the patriotic people as a few democrat-haters suppose. It is neither brilliant nor manly and newspapers that sustain such proceedings are entitled to no consideration.

THE excursions continue to drain money out of Fort Wayne at the rate of from $200 to $500 a day, but Fort Wayne will do nothing to bring excursions in for fear some one would make a dollar. THE SENTINEL urged that the city convert its low lands on the north side into a lake and pleasure resort, but because the water might come from the canal no action was taken.

SUPT. JOHN S. IRVIN, of the public schools, is going to reduce the surplus school fund in a sensible and practicable way, through the approbation of the directors. He has added book-keeping and stenography to the regular course of study and will, in other ways, improve the schedule of school work. This is the right way to utilize the school money, and one that will meet with universal approval.

JUDGE MACK, of Terre Haute, was at New York the other day, and very nicely remarked to a reporter: "I do not know whether Indiana will have a candidate for vice-president on the democratic ticket, but if Governor Gray permits his name to be used, as many are insisting he shall, he will be very strong in this state. He is a discreet, far-seeing, courageous man. He is, besides, a man of great purity of character, and the most adroit politician in the state. While all concede his power as a leader, few are able to discover where it lies hidden behind the quiet, modest, unassuming manner."

NEW HAVEN NEWS.

NEW HAVEN, Sept. 1.

Dr. L. S. Null is the happy father of a big baby girl.

Miss Katie Schnelker is visiting friends at Fort Wayne.

Mr. Gideon Burgess, of Richmond, Kansas, is visiting friends.

Edward Sarran, of Cincinnati, who has been visiting J. B. Blaising, returned home Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Schaab, of Cecil, O., who have been visiting friends, returned home Tuesday.

Mr. M. Smith buried his two-year-old son, Sunday last, in the Odd Fellows cemetery. Died of scarlet fever.

Miss Nellie Mungeon, of Fort Wayne, who has been visiting Mrs. Schnelker, returned home Tuesday.

Mrs. Joseph Astry and daughter, Lilly, of Chicago, has been visiting Mrs. H. F. Schnelker the past few days.

Herbert Bell has returned from Huntington, where he has been attending a reunion of his old regiment, the 88th.

Gideon thinks Uncle L. M. would not make a valuable acquisition to Kansas. He says it would be necessary for him to exert his physical qualities, and this L. M. never would do.

Last Sunday an interesting game of base ball was played between a club picked from the Defiance, Hicksville and Antwerp base ball clubs and the New Haven runts. The visitors' intention was to wipe out the runts, but they found them a good second. Result of game: D., H. and A. combination, 14; Runts, 9. There was a large attendance. A few unbecoming words between the captains of the two clubs was an unpleasant feature of the game, for which Captain Shields has been voted out by the Runts and Captain Cartwright will now lead the boys on to victory.

Constipation Has Many Victims, and the endeavor to find relief with the cathartic, the injection, the aperient and laxative are distressing. These are resorted to time and again, until the sufferer is almost in despair, as he gains only a brief respite.

By taking Simmons' Liver Regulator, the bowels will be gently moved as naturally as if no medicine had been taken. Regularity in taking the medicine will soon effect a permanent relief.

AROUND THE CITY.

The News of the Day as Gathered from the Railroad and Manufacturing Centers of the City.

James Steffens of the moulding rooms of the Bass works is on the sick list.

Emigrant trains have been passing through the city quite frequently this summer.

F. G. Dassler, of the Pittsburg boiler shops, has gone to Wanata, Ill., to spend some time.

Several of the manufacturing establishments of the city are working twelve and thirteen hours a day.

S. B. Clay, who has been in Texas for some time, has returned and taken a position in the Bass shops.

Mr. Turnbull, the draughtsman at the Pennington works, is very ill at his residence on East Wayne street.

The excursion fever on the railroads has not died out yet, and will continue until the cold weather sets in.

Amos Sine, the well known engineer on the Pittsburg, is sojourning in Kansas for the benefit of his health.

J. C Matsch, the genial foreman in the Bass foundry, is full of work and is found at the shops early and late.

James Noonan, the blacksmith in the Bass works, is rejoicing over the arrival of a ten pound boy at his house.

John Kirk, an employe in the Pennington works, who has been suffering with typhoid fever for some time, is now convalescent.

Harry Oftenbach, of the Olds wagon works, has joined the band of the dime show, and will leave the city to travel with them.

Robert Southern, a Pittsburg brakeman, has been off duty for several days by two or three pets in the shape of boils, on his neck.

Jacob Weismer, the clerk in the Olds wheel works, is actually talking about going to Put-in-Bay again next Saturday. Jake was there less than a week ago.

Frank Stier, of the Bass foundry moulding rooms, has taken up a collection among the boys to defray the expense of buying a quart of milk every day for the foundry kittens.

Joe Sukup, who was formerly employed at the Bass works, but who has been at Bucyrus, Ohio, for some time, has returned to the city and taken a position in the moulding rooms at the Bass foundry.

The Bass works will probably be compelled to make an increased number of car wheels at their works here on account of the burning of their works at St. Louis, and if so they will employ a large number of new men. Both of the old moulding rooms will be used for this purpose.

The general freight agents and their assistants of the Lake Erie and Western, the Vandalia, the Monon, the Indianapolis, Bloomington and Western, the Big Four, the Wabash, the Pan Handle, and the Chicago, St. Louis and Kansas City met at Indianapolis on Tuesday and arranged a rate sheet covering tariffs from points touched in common.

J. H. Sloan, the genial and popular shop clerk in the Pittsburg machine shop, was sitting at his desk this morning when our reporter entered, and to our hackneyed inquiry, "what's the news?" said, as he stuck his pencil up over his ear: "Oh, nothing! News is very scarce around the shop just now. The men are all busy, and we clerks are head over heels at work in fixing up our monthly reports, but we are through now, and the truth is I don't know anything. Go out and see Charley Cross, B. Fitzpatrick, James Hughes, C. J. Sosenheimer, Ed Challenger, J. C. Kensill, L. B. Buchwalter, or some of the other boys. They may know something, I don't." We found that news was very scarce.

BASE BALL.

Base ball seems to have replaced every other form of amusement among some of the employes in the Pittsburg shops, and is now all the rage there. The boiler shop boys, during their recent excursion at Warsaw, having defeated a picked nine from the back woods, have crawled away up on their ear, and recently had the audicity to send a challenge to the boys in the machine shops. They had better never have been born, for after next Saturday, when the game between them has been arranged to take place at the fair grounds, they will be looking all over to find a secluded spot to hide their heads. The game will be called at 3:30 p. m. George Schmall will carry the bats to the grounds and put in the overtime by furnishing the boys with water. The band, consisting of J. Koch, G. L. Harris, Lew Miller, W. H. Baker, F. G. Olds, A. Tagtmeyer and J. H. Franke will occupy the grand stand and furnish the music for the occasion. John A. Reilley will be umpire, Frank Fitzpatrick scorer, and J. H. Sloan and B. Armack will seat the ladies, while Peter Harbor and his partner, A. Finke, will make themselves generally useful. We are not able to furnish a list of the Boiler Shop nine at this writing, but the Machine Shop nine will be as follows: Frank Scheid, catcher; Bert White, pitcher; Theo. Kucher, s. s.; Frank Cairns, 1b; G. C. Koegel, 2b; Joe J. Bennigen, 3b; D. W. Harding, l. f.; H. Mennewisch, c. f. and Wm. White, r. f.

Chronic Diseases

and diseases of the

EYE AND EAR

A SPECIALTY.

It is well known by all intelligent observers that it is impossible for any person, no matter how highly endowed by nature or acquirements, to become thoroughly conversant with all the divisions of the science of medicine. Nearly all who have obtained distinction in medicine have made some special department their life work, being fitted therefor by natural adaption or selection, special education and experience. The doctors having devoted several years to the special study of this class of diseases in hospitals and general practice, and having the most recent and improved instruments for finding out diseased conditions in the organs of the body, they propose to devote the whole of their time to the practice of these specialties.

They adopt the following plan, which is peculiar to hospitals and is not or never has been the practice of country doctors, viz: They carefully note the symptoms of the patient, ascertain the condition of the internal organs, examine the eye, ear and throat by the most recent and improved instruments and methods, all of which they carefully record in their register for future references. In this way they ascertain the true nature of the disease and its cause. Knowing the disease, they know the changes it produces in the tissues, and, knowing the changes, they check them with specific remedies and place the patient on the high road to recovery. When sick people consult them, they readily tell them whether they can cure or help them or if they are beyond hope.

The examinations are in accordance with anatomical and physical science, and they will convince the most skeptical. By an examination they will convince any one of the nature and extent of their disease, amount of danger to life and chance of a perfect cure. Believing that science is truth, and "truth is mighty and will prevail" when known and knowing the disease can be cured, with positive certainty, they invite the afflicted to call and receive advice free and be cured of their diseases.

There is no subject that requires so much study and experience as the treatment and cure of chronic diseases. The astonishing success and remarkable cures performed by them are due to the long study of the constitution of man, and the cure of the disease by natural remedies. Let those given up by others call for examination. They have successfully treated the following diseases since their arrival in this state: Eye and ear diseases, chronic diarrhœa, chronic inflammation of the womb, chronic inflammation of the bladder, painful or irregular menstruation, fever sores and ulcers, incontinence of urine, tape worms, crooked limbs and enlarged joints, spinal curvatures, club foot, hip joint disease, white swelling, discharging abscesses, sterility or barrenness, nervousness and general debility, prostration and impotency, disease of the kidneys and bladder, leucorrhea or whites, blotches and pimples, skin diseases, dyspepsia, constipation, dropsy, cancer, epileptic fits, erysipelas, gravel, goitre, gleet, gonorrhœa, hydrocle, heart disease headache, piles, hysteria, syphillis, St. Vitus dance, chronic dysentery, enlarged tonsils, fever and ague, fistula in ano, hernia or rupture, ovarian tumors, paralysis, palsy, prolapsus uteri, bronchitis, asthma, catarrh, scrofula, consumption, chronic cough, female weakness, spermatorrhœa, rheumatism, liver disease, etc.

YOUNG MEN

Who have become victims of solitary vice, that dreadful and destructive habit which annually sweeps to an untimely grave thousands of young men of exalted talent and brilliant intellect, may call with full confidence.

DR. FRUTH,

After years of experience, has discovered the greatest cure known for weakness in the back and limbs, involuntary discharges, impotency, general debility, nervousness, langour, confusion of ideas, palpitation of the heart, timidity, trembling, dimness of sight or giddiness, diseases of the head, throat, nose or skin, affections of the liver, lungs, stomach or bowels—those terrible disorders arising from the solitary habits of youth—and secret habits blighting the most radiant hopes or anticipations, rendering marriage impossible. Take one candid thought before it is too late. A week or month may place your case beyond the reach of hope. My method of treatment will speedily and permanently cure the most obstinate case and absolutely restore perfect manhood.

TO MIDDLE AGED MEN.

There are many from the age of thirty to sixty who are troubled with frequent evacuations of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight smarting or burning sensation, weakening the system in a manner the patient cannot account for; on an examination of the urinary deposits a ropy sediment will be found and sometimes small particles of albumen will appear, or the color will be of a thin or milkish hue, again changing to a dark or torpid appearance. There are many men who die of this difficulty, ignorant of the cause, which is a second stage of seminal weakness. We will guarantee a perfect cure in all such cases and a healthy restoration of the genito-urinary organs.

PRIVATE DISEASES.

Blood poison, venereal taint, gleet, stricture, seminal emissions, loss of suxtual power, weakness of sextual organs, want of desire in male or female, whether from imprudent habits of youth or sextual habits inmature years, or any cause that debilitates the sextual functions, speedily and perfectly cured. Consultation free and strictly confidential. Absolute cures guaranteed.

DISEASES OF WOMEN.

We have a special department thoroughly organized and devoted exclusively to the treatment of the diseases of women. Every case consulting our specialist, whether by letter or in person, is given the most careful and considerate attention. Important cases (and we get few which have not baffled the skill of all the home physicians) have the benefit of the full council of skilled specialists. In treatment of diseases peculiar to females, our success has been marked, over two thirds of our patients being ladies, old, young, married, single, rich and poor. Our methods are entirely free from objectionable features of the general practitioner, namely, "local treatment." We seldom find it necessary. We prepare remedies, constitutional and local, as the case demands, and instruct ladies how to treat themselves.

EPILEPSY, OR FITS

Positively cured by a new and never-failing method.

FREE EXAMINATION OF THE URINE.

Each person applying for medical treatment should send or bring from 2 to 4 ounces of urine, which will receive a careful chemical and microscopical examination. Persons ruined in health by unlearned pretenders, who keep trifling with them month after month, giving poisonous and injurious compounds, should apply immediately.

REMARKABLE CURES

A Boon

To mankind, said a member of the State Medical Society of Ga., at one of its meetings, "and the prescription ought to be given to the medical fraternity for the benefit of the Profession, for no such combination exists in the Pharmacopea as that of Simmons Liver Regulator." The late THOS. H. POWERS, of Philadelphia, America's greatest chemist, asserted "it was like the discovery of Dover, in his celebrated Dover's Powder, it could not be improved and it was wonderfully strange that the combination had never been made in an officinal form."

L. M. HINTON, M. D., Washington, Ark., says: "No other remedy within my knowledge can fill its place. I have been practicing medicine for twenty years, and have never been able to put up a vegetable compound that would, like Simmons Liver Regulator, promptly and effectively move the Liver to action and at the same time aid (instead of weakening) the digestive powers."

Symptoms such as bitter or bad taste in the mouth; pain in the back, often mistaken for Rheumatism; sour stomach; loss of appetite; bowels alternately costive and lax; headache; loss of memory, with a painful sensation of having failed to do something which ought to have been done; debility; low spirits; a thick yellow appearance of the skin and eyes; a dry cough often mistaken for Consumption, indicate Liver disease, and if not regulated in time great suffering, wretchedness and death will often ensue.

Price $1. Sold by all Druggists. Prepared by J. H. ZEILIN & Co., Philadelphia, Pa

is offered by the manufacturers of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, for a case of Chronic Nasal Catarrh which they cannot cure.

SYMPTOMS OF CATARRH.—Dull, heavy headache, obstruction of the nasal passages, discharges falling from the head into the throat, sometimes profuse, watery, and acrid, at others, thick, tenacious, mucous, purulent, bloody and putrid; the eyes are weak, watery, and inflamed; there is ringing in the ears, deafness, hacking or coughing to clear the throat, expectoration of offensive matter, together with scabs from ulcers; the voice is changed and has a nasal twang; the breath is offensive; smell and taste are impaired; there is a sensation of dizziness, with mental depression, a hacking cough and general debility. Only a few of the above-named symptoms are likely to be present in any one case. Thousands of cases annually, without manifesting half of the above symptoms, result in consumption, and end in the grave. No disease is so common, more deceptive and dangerous, or less understood by physicians.

By its mild, soothing, and healing properties, Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy cures the worst cases of Catarrh, "cold in the head," Coryza, and Catarrhal Headache.

Sold by druggists everywhere; 50 cents.

"Untold Agony from Catarrh."

Prof. W. HAUSNER, the famous mesmerist, of Ithaca, N. Y., writes: "Some ten years ago I suffered untold agony from chronic nasal catarrh. My family physician gave me up as incurable, and said I must die. My case was such a bad one, that every day, towards sunset, my voice would become so hoarse I could barely speak above a whisper. In the morning my coughing and clearing of my throat would almost strangle me. By the use of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, in three months, I was a well man, and the cure has been permanent."

"Constantly Hawking and Spitting."

THOMAS J. RUSHING, Esq., 2902 Pine Street, St. Louis, Mo., writes: "I was a great sufferer from catarrh for three years. At times I could hardly breathe, and was constantly hawking and spitting, and for the last eight months could not breathe through the nostrils. I thought nothing could be done for me. Luckily, I was advised to try Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, and I am now a well man. I believe it to be the only sure remedy for catarrh now manufactured, and one has only to give it a fair trial to experience astounding results and a permanent cure."

Three Bottles Cure Catarrh.

ELI ROBBINS, Runyan P. O., Columbia Co., Pa., says: "My daughter had catarrh when she was five years old, very badly. I saw Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy advertised, and procured a bottle for her, and soon saw that it helped her; a third bottle effected a permanent cure. She is now eighteen years old and sound and hearty."

The Exhaustion of Petroleum.

It can hardly be doubted, I fear, that the supply both of oil and gas has now been so largely drawn upon that within less than a score of years scarcely any will be left which can be brought at reasonable cost into the market. The boundaries and extent of the oil regions have been determined. All the sands in which oil will ever be found in such quantities as to be worth working are known, and have been drilled through in various places. It is scarcely possible that any new fields will be discovered which will be comparable, either in extent or productiveness, with those now known. So far back as January, 1883, Professor Lesley pointed out that no petroleum is now being produced in the Devonian rocks, either by the process akin to distillation or otherwise. What has been stored up in the past, a process which probably lasted for millions of years, may go out. But when these reservoirs are exhausted there will be an end of the petroleum supply. "The discovery of a few more pools of 2,000,000 or 3,000,000 each can make but little difference." Mr. Carll, whose opinion on the geology of the oil-bearing districts may be regarded as decisive, has come to a similar conclusion. "There are not at present," he pointed out recently, "any reasonable grounds for expecting the discovery of new fields which will add to the declining products of the old, so as to enable the out-put to keep pace with the shipments of consumption."

The stored petroleum in this region has then been very nearly exhausted. In less than a generation a small part of the population of this continent alone has used up nearly all the valuable stores of energy which had been accumulated during millions of years of the geologic past.

More recent inquries confirm the conclusions of Professor Lesley and Mr. Carll. The signs of exhaustion in the oil producing regions can now be clearly recognized, During the last four years there has been a steady diminution in the out-put, accompanied by an increase in the price per barrel, which, neverless, does not even maintain the nominal annual value of the supply. Mr. Wrigley announced in 1882 that 154,000,000 barrels of oil had already been raised up to the beginning of that year, and expressed the opinion that more than 96,000,000 barrels remained to be raised. In this last estimate he was undoubtedly mistaken, for up to the beginning of 1885, no fewer than 261,000,000 barrels had been raised, and in the year 1885 as many as 21,642,041 barrels (nearly 3,000,000 fewer than in 1884) were obtained. But although the estimate of 1885 of the quantity of oil still remaining fell short of the truth, and though we may admit as possible that even now much more oil remains to be put out than the most experienced geologists suppose, the signs of approaching exhaustion are yearly becoming more unmistakable. The expense of bringing the oil to the surface grows greater year by year, and threatens soon to become so great that the profit of working the oil stores will be evanescent. So soon as that state of things is approached we may be sure that the oilmen's occupation in Pennsylvania and western New York will be gone. It has been stated that the Japanese, unwilling to let the least friction of earth's interior stores be lost, have been known to excavate a vertical shaft to the depth of 600 feet in order to raise a few gallons of oil per day. But in America, when the oil mines are so near exhaustion as this, they will be abandoned; nay, they will be abandoned long before they approach such a condition. With the failure of the oil supply all the collateral branches of industry associated with it will fail, too.—Home Knowledge.

When Sunstroke Is Imminent.

When, during the heated term, one who has been exposed to the sun's heated rays begins to suffer from headache, giddiness, nausea and disturbance of sight, accompanied with sudden and great prostration of the physical forces, sunstroke is probably imminent. If such a one will take time by the forelock and immediately retire to a cool place, making use of some simple restoratives, such as aromatic ammonia, etc., he may be spared further trouble, but if he persists with his business he will doubtless soon become very ill, which illness usually takes the form of heat exhaustion, heat appoplexy or genuine sunstroke, the thermic fever of some writers.

Those who are exhausted by the heat have a cool moist skin, a rapid, weak pulse and respiration movement and the pupil is dilated. In fact the symptoms are those of collapse. These patients will probably recover promptly, an event which may be hastened by the use of a tonic and restorative treatment.

Those who suffer from heat apoplexy frequently become unconscious at the outset. The heart and breathing apparatus is not markedly disturbed and the pupil may be normal, but the unconsciousness deepens and the case runs on to a fatal termination. An artery has been broken in the brain, and poured-out blood pressing on the nevre centres brings about the fatal event. A treatment calculated to draw the blood from the brain to the extremities—hot foot baths, bleeding, etc., promises to be the most useful in such cases.

The thermic fever patient is unconscious and convulsed, and his body temperature may be 108 degrees or 110 degrees F., that is, 10 degrees above normal. The skin of this patient feels as though it would burn your hand when laid thereon. In this case the thorough and prompt application of cold is needed. Ice to the head and cold water to the body generally will be in order. Medical advice should be promptly had in either of the two case last referred to. Complete recovery from sunstroke is rare, the brain being permanently crippled in many cases. Residence in a cold climate affords some hope for such patients.—Philadelphia Times.

PRESIDENT PIERCE IN ENGLAND.

[New York letter.]

J. S. Oakford, a member of one of the oldest families of Philadelphia, whose ancestor came over with William Penn, was paralyzed May 13 at his lodgings on West Thirty-third street, this city, and recently he was taken to the Roosevelt Hospital, and now he is in a dying condition in a charity ward of that institution. Mr. Oakford has mingled all his life with the best society of Europe and America, and now he is dying like a pauper in a charity hospital.

"Few men, certainly few Americans, have seen life under so many varied and striking aspects as I have. My reminiscences would fill a volume. I have dined with princes, supped with prize-fighters, traded with Indians, attended the receptions of kings and emperors, entertained presidents, and acted as a squire of damsels in distress," said Mr. Oakford to me the other day.

"When ex-President Pierce visited England after his retirement I happened to be living at Sydenham, a few miles out of London. I had then a charming villa near the Crystal Palace for a year; in fact, the grounds adjoined those of the palace."

"How did the President enjoy his visit to England?"

"He was like a schoolboy off on a holiday. He was delighted with everything. I never shall forget the day I gave him a dinner at Greenwich. We rode down in an open carriage and the ex-President was so effusive on the occasion that the very boys on the streets of London noticed it. He threw his arms around my neck and in this strange fashion we drove down Piccadilly, and I was really ashamed of the undignified conduct of our distinguished countryman. Gen. Campbell, of Texas, whom Pierce had appointed American Consul to London, was living near town, and we went to the Derby together. The General was an old campaigner, had fought in the Texan war of independence, and, although nearly 80 years old at the time he was in England, was as straight as an Indian and as game as a Mohawk. When he arrived in England Beverly Tucker, who was at the time our Consul at Liverpool, had very kindly accompanied him up to London after securing rooms for him at Morley's Hotel. They arrived in town about 7 o'clock one evening, and, after stopping in their rooms only long enough to make a hasty toilet, they descended to the dining-room. After dinner Campbell went at once to his rooms, while Tucker remained below to give some instructions about the baggage. Going up stairs in a couple of minutes he found Gen. Campbell in a strange room parleying with a lady. It appears that he had missed his room, and seeing the lady enter one he had followed her, and Tucker heard him say as he came up: 'My good woman, can you tell me where room 65 is?' Tucker drew him out of the room and whispered to him: 'Do you know who that lady is?' 'No, I thought she was one of the chambermaids of the hotel.' 'You have made a dreadful mistake. That lady is the Countess of Erroll,' and before Tucker could stop him the old General had rushed back and apologized for his mistake, saying that he had taken her for a chambermaid. When Tucker met Campbell next morning he told him that the unfortunate mistake on the previous evening had been communicated to the Earl of Erroll, and that he was terribly angry that his lady had been taken for a chambermaid and was going to challenge the American who had been guilty of such conduct. 'I will fight,' said the General, 'but I really had no intention of insulting the lady.' After keeping up the joke for some time, Tucker told Campbell that the duel was only a hoax."

An Important Element

Of the success of Hood's Sarsaparilla is the fact that every purchaser receives a fair equivalent for his money. The familiar headline "100 Doses One Dollar" stolen by imitators, is original with and true only of Hood's Sarsaparilla. This can easily be proven by any one who desires to test the matter. ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferers at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub wakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

Spreading the Gospel.

"I am picking up all the pins I can find," said Edward Stillwel; "Mamma pays me a penny a hundred, and by the Fourth of July I will have 800 of them, which will make me eight cents for my missionary box." "Well," said Bill Jones, coarsely, "what of that?" "Then," replied Edward Stillwel, for it was he, "Mamma says she will give me a quarter to go to the circus. Don't you wish you might go to the circus also. William?" asked Edward. "Hoh!" was all that Bill Jones said. Because he went to the circus, too, always attended both performances. Sometimes he carried water for the elephant; in that case he got a twenty-five cent seat, same as Edward. But as a rule, he preferred to hook under the canvas, because then he got a fifty cent seat, and spent his missionary money for pink lemonade, made of water, moisture, and dampness in equal parts.—Burdette.

The white-washing of railroad bridges on the ground that such treatment would not only preserve the timbers but render them almost fire-proof, has been suggested. Bullock and company, who built the Wabash water works, and who also propose to put in works at Huntington, are temporarily embarpassed financially and that a recent draft of $7,000 drawn by them on a New York bank, was dishonored for want of funds.

Fisher is still retained as stage manager, and he is as clever as any house in the country can boast of.

An attempt was made to wreck a train on the Wabash railway about two miles from Lafayette yesterday by burning a culvert, but the fire had not made sufficient headway to weaken the structure, and the train dashed over it uninjured. A man was seen to run rapidly away as the train approached. The deed was probably instigated by a desire for revenge for some real or fancied injury, but the Wabash detectives are of the opinion that the man who set fire to the cattle guard is the same wretch who attempted to wreck the train at Danville.

John Nickey, of Churubusco, Ind., a passenger on the Wabash train, yesterday morning, discovered, as he was reaching Milan, Mich., that he had been robbed of $1,600 in money, notes and bonds. At Milan four men left the train. Their actions were suspicious and an attempt was made by the Wabash officials to arrest them, but after a long hand-to-hand encounter, in which two town officials were badly hurt, the thugs drew revolvers and threatened to shoot if they were pursued further. Three of them succeeded in escaping to the woods but the fourth, who gave his name as Charles Moyer, a machinist, of Pittsburg, was arrested. He had $58 in his pocket and all the utensils for conducting thimble riging, or the shell game. A great crowd of citizens of Milan are in pursuit of the thieves who escaped.

Who has ticket No. 3415? It entitles the holder to the fine, custom made buggy presented by Messrs. Sam, Pete & Max, the popular clothiers.

The Great Cut Continues.

Never before has our trade continued as brisk during the dull months of July and August. The reason is easily told.

Never quite have we attempted

Such an Unmerciful
Cut of Prices as Now!

Odd Avocations.

A woman who has seen better days and who had a fine house of her own, and was especially an embarrassment of bric-a-brac in her drawing room, which she was accustomed to arrange herself with exquisite tastefulness. When the wolf came to her door she begged one or two of her former friends having fine mansions to employ her in arranging their drawing-rooms occasionally. With their consent she began an industry which has developed into a business. Once a month this lady (for she is a lady) goes to the houses of her patrons with two assistants, and superintends the cleansing of the parlors, after the furniture has been removed, and then rearranges them in the most elegant style. If she finds certain articles are needed to make the room attractive, a la mode, she purchases them and puts them in place. She also selects articles of virtu, having consummate taste and judgment in such purchases, for which she receives a commission from the merchant of whom she buys. It would seem possibly an extravagance to the reader to employ any one for such a purpose, but considering the wretched careless methods of servants in New York, and the numberless articles of bric-a-brac now in vogue for drawing-rooms, it is an economy and not an extravagance to employ a woman of discretion and carefulness to keep them in order. And then our new rich people do not know how to arrange a drawing-room, and it is a comfort to them to have some one who does know, or, rather a necessity.

Another lady, formerly wealthy, charges a good round sum per day for escorting ladies—strangers, of course—to the most elegible shops for purchasing stylish garments, furniture, etc. Still another lady acts as guide to the picture galleries, museums, and public amusements for ladies from out of town, who write to her in advance.

For many years women have been employed by ladies of fortune to go abroad and make purchases for them in Paris, London and Berlin; in short, to buy novelties at a cheaper rate than can be purchased here and to be in advance of the modistes of New York. These (some of them) are ladies who boast that they never wear dry goods purchased in this market, everything comes "from abroad"—and if the truth were known, from second and third-rate shops in the cities where their agent finds them. Shopping on commission has grown to be an enormous business in New York. One woman engaged in it has an office and clerks; she buys furniture, jewelry—in fact, all sorts of merchandise for her customers in every state in the union; has whole wardrobes made up for ladies, for children, and infants, and has purchased artificial limbs to order. There is a commission from those she buys for and from, yielding a very good percentage in this double arrangement.—New York letter.

"WHITE CAPS!"

The Gang of Lawless Men, Who are Terrorizing the Citizens Around New Albany, Ind.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 1.—A special from New Albany, Ind., says, that on Tuesday night a gang of lawless men in Spencer township, Harrison county, calling themselves "White Caps," took from his bed, John Hildebriant, a popular citizen, who last year was elected justice of the peace by nearly a unanimous vote, and strung him to a tree and beat him unmercifully, with hickory switches. They told him they were not pleased with his decisions, and charged him with cruelty to his family. The same night, at Depauw, they warned a saloon keeper to stop selling liquor and at Frenchtown they awakened Postmaster Paul Henrett, told him what they had been doing and ordered him, under penalty of a hundred lashes, to spread the news quick. They had previously warned a widow named Daugherty that she must not marry a young man to whom she is engaged. Her friends have organized for her protection.

Devastating Storms.

MORGAN, TEXAS, Sept. 1.—The hardest rain that ever fell in this county began Tuesday night, and has continued without cessation. The damage to the farmers in the low valley lands in every portion of the county is estimated at thousands of dollars. The Texas Central, and Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe railroad, is badly damaged, and it will be many days before they can move trains. Nine business houses, with all their goods, went down the Basque river; also three cotton gins and nine residences were washed away, and every house in town is damaged. At Meridan, a man was drowned in trying to save the contents of his house. Bridges were washed away, and the loss to the railroad is over $100,000.

THE MARKETS.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—The stock market opened generally strong at first prices, in most stocks showing advances from ¼ to ¾ per cent. Market was active, although the business was principally in six or eight stocks. Prices advanced. At a late hour the advance was checked, and business became lighter. DEVILISH WORK.

A Bold Attempt to Wreck a Passenger Train at Pekin, Ill., for the Purpose of Robbery.

PEKIN, Ill., Sept. 1.—A bold attempt was made last evening on the Indiana, Bloomington and Western railroad to wreck the passenger train that left Pekin at 8 o'clock, at Leslie Station, six miles east of this city. The east and west bound passenger trains are due here at 8 o'clock and a large stone, weighing a couple hundred pounds, was placed between the rails of the main track. The east bound passenger train had slowed up for a passenger at Leslie Station, when the engine struck the stone, throwing it over, and the forward truck left the track. The train was delayed nearly an hour. The only theory given for this devilish work is that of robbery.

THE B. & O. EXPRESS.

The Gossip About Its Reported Sale, and Mr. Garrett's Desire to Sell Other Interests.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 1.—The Baltimore and Ohio Express to-day passed into the hands of the United States Express Company, and its employes notified of the change. Speaking of the sale, Mr. John E. Cowan, the counsel for the Baltimore and Ohio Company, said: "The statement that the B. & O. Express has been sold to the U. S. Express Company is not correct. There has been simply a contract entered into between the two companies by which the United States Express is to run the Baltimore and Ohio for thirty years, for which the former is to pay the latter Company a certain percentage of the earnings." It is now very generally believed here that the sale of the Express is not the last of the deals of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad. Special dispatches from New York render it conclusive to the minds of many prominent business men that the telegraph system of the company will soon pass into other hands if the negotation is not already concluded. The impression also prevails that Mr. Garrett is anxious to dispose of the road and the announcement of its sale at any time will create no surprise here.

SEWER CASUALTY.

Inspector Fallahee, Henry Tilbery and John Eber Badly Hurt.

Yesterday afternoon the Griffith street sewer, now in course of construction, was the scene of a very severe accident. Inspector Pat Fallahee, Henry Tilberry and John Eber were standing on a plank crossing over the sewer. The temporary bridge was used to lower material into the sewer and was deemed safe.

Before the three men above named could realize their danger the boards gave way under them and all fell fifteen feet into the ditch. They were in a tangled mass when the workmen rescued them and carried them out of the hole.

Tilberry was very severely injured about the back, and was entirely helpless. Young Eber fared better, but he, too, was taken to the St. Joe hospital, under the care of Dr. W. H. Myers.

Mr. Fallahee, who was sewer inspector under City Civil Engineer Goshorn, was bruised and hurt internally. He lies at his home in the Sixth ward, but in a few days he will be at work again.

ROBBED THE K. OF L.

The Co-operative Store Broken Into by Burglars Who Make a Small Haul.

Some time last night thieves broke into the Knights of Labor co operative store, managed by Councilman Buttenbender in the Garvey block, on Calhoun street. The burglars first forced their way into the cellar, but failing to open the door leading up to the store, they retraced their steps and proceeded to a side entrance. This door they pushed in without apparent trouble, and then their work was easy.

The store has no safe, and the cash drawer was easy of access. In a box the rascals found $7.50, but in the goodness of their hearts overlooked $28 in a drawer adjoining.

Mr. Buttenbender cannot tell what goods were taken, but he considers himself lucky.

Marriage of Miss Nellie Brown.

[Lafayette Courier.]

The many friends of Miss Nellie Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Brown, of this city, and Will P. Cooper, city editor of the Fort Wayne Gazette, will be surprised to learn of their marriage which will occur this evening at Racine, Wis. The contracting parties are first cousins, and under the laws of Indiana, could not be wedded in this state. John Brown, of B. C. Curtis & Co., and Miss Alice Brown, of this city, brother and sister of the bride, will be present at the marriage. The young couple, after a short honeymoon in Chicago, will return to Fort Wayne. Mr. Cooper is one of the brightest young newspaper men in northern Indiana, and a most excellent gentleman. Miss Brown is an artist of no mean ability, a graduate of the New York Art Schools, and a most accomplished lady. She has for some time had charge of the society department of the Fort Wayne Gazette, and conducted it with marked ability. The Courier adds its most sincere well wishes to the happy union.

The Passion Play.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Sept. 1.—The authorities has prohibited a sacreligious representation of Christ and the virgins in a passion play by colored people last night.

Capitalists in Rags.

While thousands of deserving poor are daily dying of slow starvation, there are in Paris gangs of professional beggars, like the "gueux" referred to in Beringer's song, who are a happy race. Only a few days ago a chiffonier, who would not pay his rent in the Belleville quarter, was ejected from his premises by force, and as the huisser's men were hustling him out a sum of money, in gold and silver, amounting to nearly £80, rolled out of his rags. There is also an old story of a Parisian blind beggar who was stationed every day on one of the bridges, and to whom a passing Samaritan once gave a gold louis instead of a franc. Having discovered his mistake the almsgiver went back to the beggar, but found that he had left his post. After having made inquiries in the neighborhood, the person obtained the mendicant's address, whither he repaired in the evening. He found the blind man installed in a comfortable villa, the door of which was opened by a tidy servant, who said that her master was at dinner and could not be disturbed. The stranger, however, made known his errand, and the beggar sent down a message by his man, saying that it was quite possible that he had taken a louis for a franc, but that he had not yet made up his account for the day. Finally, the almsgiver was told to meet the blind man on the bridge next day, and the error, if any, would be rectified. Only recently a true narrative of the same sort, but with a slight variation, was told by M. Thivet before the tribunal of correctional police, where a man named Samuel was being tried for begging. Samuel is about 64 years old, and was in the habit of begging from house to house. When arrested he was found living in a comfortable apartment in the Rue Commines, for which he paid £5 a year as rent. An account-book was also found in his rooms, in which he entered his takings. These in some cases amounted to 20 francs, or 15 shilling, in one day. Mr. Toivet, the prosecutor, said that in December last Samuel went to his house and represented himself as a commercial traveler temporarily out of employment, having a wife and family in destitution. He gave him two francs, but seeing him next day going into another house he watched him and found him begging. He then had him arrested as a professional mendicant, which was proved by the account-book found in his rooms. The tribunal ordered Samuel to be sent to jail for two months.—Paris letter.

The Leper Colony.

Touching at Molokai, we were afforded an excellent opportunity for inspecting the leper colony established there. Many of these unfortunates were found to be in the last stages of the disease. The sight of these poor creatures would serve to excite the curiosity of only the most morbid nature. Their cheerfulness, even when rendered incapable of locomotion by the ravages of the disease, is somewhat remarkable, while their number includes many Europeans, the Chinese being by far in excess of all nations. The disease is said to be rather constitutional in character than a result of cutaneous inoculation, as might be erroneously supposed. Science, however, has not been enabled to do much toward relieving the sufferings of these poor people, although their wants appeared to be generously provided for through the liberality of the government and that of foreign residents. The disease is contagious, while the hopeless misery of many of the victims in Hawaii would justly excite the pity of any beholder. One feature of the disease, as explained by my informant, is the fact that there are many persons living at Molokai who for years prior to their arrival there as patients had been living in various parts of the kingdom in utter ignorance of the appalling fact that leprosy was insidiously attacking the system. One instance in point was that of an aged Catholic priest, who discovered his deplorable condition only after an accidental breaking of a lighted lamp. It followed in his case that while removing some of the hot fragments in his effort to prevent any further damage, he found that he had lost the sense of feeling in his right hand. Instantly divining that he was afflicted with the dread malady, he heroically sought refuge among others at the leper settlement on Molokai, where I believe he died several years since.

DYNAMITE DOINGS!

A Farmer Literally Blown to Pieces While Blasting Stumps With Dynamite Cartridges.

LOGANSPORT, Ind., Sept. 1.—A horrible accident occurred on John Hill's farm, about five miles east of here, yesterday, by which Henry Pletcher lost his life. He was blasting stumps with dynamite, and had about fifty cartridges in his possession. By some unknown means they were all exploded and Pletcher literally blown to pieces. Mr. Pletcher came from Elkhart, where his parents reside.

Motherwell Iron and Steel Company, of Logan, Ohio, $27,100.
Indiana Bridge Company, $29,850.
Ore Iron Bridge Company, $28,249.
Champion Bridge Company, $29,675.
King Bridge Company, $28,500.
Smith Bridge Company, Toledo, $27,999.
Graton B. & M. Co., 28,975.
Morse Bridge Company, $29,150.
Massillon Bridge Company, $27,750.

As will be seen, the Motherwell Iron and Steel company, of Logan, O., are the lowest bidders and to them it is probable the commissioners will award the work to-morrow.

The bidders on the abutments were: Barney Mitterdorf, Henry C. Paul, Wm. Moellering, John A. Koehler, Philip Lindlag and Smith Bussel. Paul and Bussel are apparently the lowest bidders and it will take close figuring to decide between them. The abutments will cost about $10,000, so that it is fair to figure on a $40,000.

Daily Sentinel

THURSDAY, SEP. 1, 1887.

THE way to make public improvements is to make them at once and not linger about them all summer.

COUNTY conventions are almost a thing of the past. Primary elections, where all can have a voice in selecting a ticket, are coming to the front.

THE Duckworth and Jefferson democratic clubs, of Cincinnati, will be present in full force at Indianapolis on the occasion of President Cleveland's visit to that city.

THE business of attempting to insult the president is not as popular with the patriotic people as a few democrat-haters suppose. It is neither brilliant nor manly and newspapers that sustain such proceedings are entitled to no consideration.

THE excursions continue to drain money out of Fort Wayne at the rate of from $200 to $500 a day, but Fort Wayne will do nothing to bring excursions in for fear some one would make a dollar. THE SENTINEL urged that the city convert its low lands on the north side into a lake and pleasure resort, but because the water might come from the canal no action was taken.

SUPT. JOHN S. IRVIN, of the public schools, is going to reduce the surplus school fund in a sensible and practicable way, through the approbation of the directors. He has added book-keeping and stenography to the regular course of study and will, in other ways, improve the schedule of school work. This is the right way to utilize the school money, and one that will meet with universal approval.

JUDGE MACK, of Terre Haute, was at New York the other day, and very nicely remarked to a reporter: "I do not know whether Indiana will have a candidate for vice-president on the democratic ticket, but if Governor Gray permits his name to be used, as many are insisting he shall, he will be very strong in this state. He is a discreet, far-seeing, courageous man. He is, besides, a man of great purity of character, and the most adroit politician in the state. While all concede his power as a leader, few are able to discover where it lies hidden behind the quiet, modest, unassuming manner."

NEW HAVEN NEWS.

NEW HAVEN, Sept. 1.

Dr. L. S. Null is the happy father of a big baby girl.

Miss Katie Schnelker is visiting friends at Fort Wayne.

Mr. Gideon Burgess, of Richmond, Kansas, is visiting friends.

Edward Sarran, of Cincinnati, who has been visiting J. B. Blaising, returned home Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Schaab, of Cecil, O., who have been visiting friends, returned home Tuesday.

Mr. M. Smith buried his two-year-old son, Sunday last, in the Odd Fellows cemetery. Died of scarlet fever.

Miss Nellie Mungeon, of Fort Wayne, who has been visiting Mrs. Schnelker, returned home Tuesday.

Mrs. Joseph Astry and daughter, Lilly, of Chicago, has been visiting Mrs. H. F. Schnelker the past few days.

Herbert Bell has returned from Huntington, where he has been attending a reunion of his old regiment, the 88th.

Gideon thinks Uncle L. M. would not make a valuable acquisition to Kansas. He says it would be necessary for him to exert his physical qualities, and this L. M. never would do.

Last Sunday an interesting game of base ball was played between a club picked from the Defiance, Hicksville and Antwerp base ball clubs and the New Haven runts. The visitors' intention was to wipe out the runts, but they found them a good second. Result of game: D., H. and A. combination, 14; Runts, 9. There was a large attendance. A few unbecoming words between the captains of the two clubs was an unpleasant feature of the game, for which Captain Shields has been voted out by the Runts and Captain Cartwright will now lead the boys on to victory.

REFLECTOR.

Constipation Has Many Victims, and the endeavor to find relief with the cathartic, the injection, the aperient and laxative are distressing. These are resorted to time and again, until the sufferer is almost in despair, as he gains only a brief respite.

By taking Simmons' Liver Regulator, the bowels will be gently moved as naturally as if no medicine had been taken. Regularity in taking the medicine will soon effect a permanent relief.

AROUND THE CITY.

The News of the Day as Gathered from the Railroad and Manufacturing Centers of the City.

James Steffens of the moulding rooms of the Bass works is on the sick list.

Emigrant trains have been passing through the city quite frequently this summer.

F. O. Dassler, of the Pittsburg boiler shops, has gone to Wanata, Ill., to spend some time.

Several of the manufacturing establishments of the city are working twelve and thirteen hours a day.

S. B. Clay, who has been in Texas for some time, has returned and taken a position in the Bass shops.

Mr. Turnbull, the draughtsman at the Pennington works, is very ill at his residence on East Wayne street.

The excursion fever on the railroads has not died out yet, and will continue until the cold weather sets in.

Amos Sine, the well known engineer on the Pittsburg, is sojourning in Kansas for the benefit of his health.

J. C Mateeh, the genial foreman in the Bass foundry, is full of work and is found at the shops early and late.

James Noonan, the blacksmith in the Bass works, is rejoicing over the arrival of a ten pound boy at his house.

John Kirk, an employe in the Pennington works, who has been suffering with typhoid fever for some time, is now convalescent.

Harry Oftenbach, of the Olds wagon works, has joined the band of the dime show, and will leave the city to travel with them.

Robert Southern, a Pittsburg brakeman, has been off duty for several days by two or three pets in the shape of boils, on his neck.

Jacob Weismer, the clerk in the Olds wheel works, is actually talking about going to Put-in-Bay again next Saturday. Jake was there less than a week ago.

Frank Stier, of the Bass foundry moulding rooms, has taken up a collection among the boys to defray the expense of buying a quart of milk every day for the foundry kittens.

Joe Sukup, who was formerly employed at the Bass works, but who has been at Bucyrus, Ohio, for some time, has returned to the city and taken a position in the moulding rooms at the Bass foundry.

The Bass works will probably be compelled to make an increased number of car wheels at their works here on account of the burning of their works at St. Louis, and if so they will employ a large number of new men. Both of the old moulding rooms will be used for this purpose.

The general freight agents and their assistants of the Lake Erie and Western, the Vandalia, the Monon, the Indianapolis, Bloomington and Western, the Big Four, the Wabash, the Pan Handle, and the Chicago, St. Louis and Kansas City met at Indianapolis on Tuesday and arranged a rate sheet covering tariffs from points touched in common.

J. H. Sloan, the genial and popular shop clerk in the Pittsburg machine shop, was sitting at his desk this morning when our reporter entered, and to our hackneyed inquiry, "what's the news?" said, as he stuck his pencil up over his ear: "Oh, nothing! News is very scarce around the shop just now. The men are all busy, and we clerks are head over heels at work in fixing up our monthly reports, but we are through now, and the truth is I don't know anything. Go out and see Charley Cross, B. Fitzpatrick, James Hughes, C. J. Soeenheimer, Ed Challenger, J. C. Kensill, L. B. Buchwalter, or some of the other boys. They may know something, I don't." We found that news was very scarce.

BASE BALL.

Base ball seems to have replaced every other form of amusement among some of the employes in the Pittsburg shops, and is now all the rage there. The boiler shop boys, during their recent excursion at Warsaw, having defeated a picked nine from the back woods, have crawled away up on their ear, and recently had the audicity to send a challenge to the boys in the machine shops. They had better never have been born, for after next Saturday, when the game between them has been arranged to take place at the fair grounds, they will be looking all over to find a secluded spot to hide their heads. The game will be called at 3:30 p. m. George Schmall will carry the bats to the grounds and put in the overtime by furnishing the boys with water. The band, consisting of J. Koch, G. L. Harris, Lew Miller, W. H. Baker, F. G. Olds, A. Tagtmeyer and J. H. Franke will occupy the grand stand and furnish the music for the occasion. John A. Reilley will be umpire, Frank Fitzpatrick scorer, and J. H. Sloan and B. Armack will seat the ladies, while Peter Harber and his partner, A. Finke, will make themselves generally useful. We are not able to furnish a list of the Boiler Shop nine at this writing, but the Machine Shop nine will be as follows: Frank Scheld, catcher; Bert White, pitcher; Thes. Kucher, s. s.; Frank Cairns, 1b; G. C. Koegel, 2b; Joe J. Heunigen, 3b; D. W. Harding, l. f.; H. Meneweich, c. f. and Wm. White, r. f.

FOUR DAYS ONLY.

Whenever it is known that Dr. Fruth is stopping at a place, whether in the north, south, east or west crowds gather to consult him, and it is not to be wondered at when it is remembered that in diagnosing a disease he never asks a question, but describes the different diseases better than the sick can themselves. It is a wonderful gift for any one to possess and Dr. Fruth's diagnostic powers have created wonder throughout the country.

Chronic Diseases

and diseases of the

EYE AND EAR

A SPECIALTY.

It is well known by all intelligent observers that it is impossible for any person, no matter how highly endowed by nature or acquirements, to become thoroughly conversant with all the divisions of the science of medicine. Nearly all who have obtained distinction in medicine have made some special department their life work, being fitted therefor by natural adaptation or selection, special education and experience. The doctors having devoted several years to the special study of this class of diseases in hospitals and general practice, and having the most recent and improved instruments for finding out diseased conditions in the organs of the body, they propose to devote the whole of their time to the practice of these specialties.

They adopt the following plan, which is peculiar to hospitals and is not or never has been the practice of country doctors, viz: They carefully note the symptoms of the patient, ascertain the condition of the internal organs, examine the eye, ear and throat by the most recent and improved instruments and methods, all of which they carefully record in their register for future references. In this way they ascertain the true nature of the disease and its cause. Knowing the disease, they know the changes it produces in the tissues, and, knowing the changes, they check them with specific remedies and place the patient on the high road to recovery. When sick people consult them, they readily tell them whether they can cure or help them or if they are beyond hope.

The examinations are in accordance with anatomical and physical science, and they will convince the most skeptical. By an examination they will convince any one of the nature and extent of their disease, amount of danger to life and chance of a perfect cure. Believing that science is truth, and "truth is mighty and will prevail" when known and knowing the disease can be cured, with positive certainty, they invite the afflicted to call and receive advice free and be cured of their diseases.

There is no subject that requires so much study and experience as the treatment and cure of chronic diseases. The astonishing success and remarkable cures performed by them are due to the long study of the constitution of man, and the cure of the disease by natural remedies. Let those given up by others call for examination. They have successfully treated the following diseases since their arrival in this state: Eye and ear diseases, chronic diarrhœa, chronic inflammation of the womb, chronic inflammation of the bladder, painful or irregular menstruation, fever sores and ulcers, incontinence of urine, tape worms, crooked limbs and enlarged joints, spinal curvatures, club foot, hip joint disease, white swelling, discharging abscesses, sterility or barrenness, nervousness and general debility, prostration and impotency, disease of the kidneys and bladder, leucorrhea or whites, blotches and pimples, skin diseases, dyspepsia, constipation, dropsy, cancer, epileptic fits, erysipelas, gravel, goitre, gleet, gonorrhœa, hydrocele, heart disease, headache, piles, hysteria, syphilis, St. Vitus dance, chronic dysentery, enlarged tonsils, fever and ague, fistula in ano, hernia or rupture, ovarian tumors, paralysis, palsy, prolapsus uteri, bronchitis, asthma, catarrh, scrofula, consumption, chronic cough, female weakness, spermatorrhœa, rheumatism, liver disease, etc.

YOUNG MEN

Who have become victims of solitary [illegible], that dreadful and destructive habit which annually sweeps to an untimely grave thousands of young men of exalted talent and brilliant intellect, may call with full confidence.

DR. FRUTH,

After years of experience, has discovered the greatest cure known for weakness in the back and limbs, involuntary discharges, impotency, general debility, nervousness, languor, confusion of ideas, palpitation of the heart, timidity, trembling, dimness of sight or giddiness, diseases of the head, throat, nose or skin, affections of the liver, lungs, stomach or bowels—those terrible disorders arising from the solitary habits of youth—and secret habits blighting the most radiant hopes or anticipations, rendering marriage impossible. Take one candid thought before it is too late. A week or month may place your case beyond the reach of hope. My method of treatment will speedily and permanently cure the most obstinate case and absolutely restore perfect manhood.

TO MIDDLE AGED MEN.

There are many from the age of thirty to sixty who are troubled with frequent evacuations of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight smarting or burning sensation, weakening the system in a manner the patient cannot account for; on an examination of the urinary deposits a ropy sediment will be found and sometimes small particles of albumen will appear, or the color will be of a thin or milkish hue, again changing to a dark or torpid appearance. There are many men who die of this difficulty, ignorant of the cause, which is a second stage of seminal weakness. We will guarantee a perfect cure in all such cases and a healthy restoration of the genito-urinary organs.

PRIVATE DISEASES.

Blood poison, venereal taint, gleet, stricture, seminal emissions, loss of sexual power, weakness of sexual organs, want of desire in male or female, whether from imprudent habits of youth or sexual habits of mature years, or any cause that debilitates the sexual functions, speedily and perfectly cured. Consultation free and strictly confidential. Absolute cures guaranteed.

DISEASES OF WOMEN.

We have a special department thoroughly organized and devoted exclusively to the treatment of the diseases of women. Every case consulting our specialist, whether by letter or in person, is given the most careful and considerate attention. Important cases (and we get few which have not baffled the skill of all the home physicians) have the benefit of the full council of skilled specialists. In treatment of diseases peculiar to females, our success has been marked, over two thirds of our patients being ladies, old, young, married, single, rich and poor. Our methods are entirely free from objectionable features of the general practitioner, namely, "local treatment." We seldom find it necessary. We prepare remedies, constitutional and local, as the case demands, and instruct ladies how to treat themselves.

EPILEPSY, OR FITS

Positively cured by a new and never-failing method.

FREE EXAMINATION OF THE URINE.

Each person applying for medical treatment should send or bring from 2 to 4 ounces of urine, which will receive a careful chemical and microscopical examination. Persons ruined in health by unlearned pretenders, who keep trifling with them month after month, giving poisonous and injurious compounds, should apply immediately.

REMARKABLE CURES

Perfected in old cases which have been neglected or unskillfully treated. No experiments or failures. Curable cases guaranteed.

NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that a special meeting of the stockholders of the Fort Wayne and Illinois Railroad Company will be held at the office of R. C. Bell, Fort Wayne, Indiana, on the 22nd day of September, 1887, at one o'clock p. m., for the purpose of considering the joint agreement of the directors of the Fort Wayne and Illinois Railroad company, the New York, Chicago and St. Louis Railroad company and the Cleveland and State Line Railroad company for the merger and consolidation of said several railroad companies into one corporation under the name of the New York, Chicago and St. Louis Railroad company, and of adopting or rejecting the same.

The Fort Wayne and Illinois Railroad Company by ALLEN COX, Secretary.

Dated August 18, 1887 23-30.

A Boon

To mankind, said a member of the State Medical Society of Ga., at one of its meetings, "and the prescription ought to be given to the medical fraternity for the benefit of the Profession, for no such combination exists in the Pharmacopeia as that of Simmons Liver Regulator." The late THOS. H. POWERS, of Philadelphia, America's greatest chemist, asserted "it was like the discovery of Dover, in his celebrated Dover's Powder, it could not be improved and it was wonderfully strange that the combination had never been made in an officinal form."

L. M. HINTON, M. D., Washington, Ark., says: "No other remedy within my knowledge can fill its place. I have been practicing medicine for twenty years, and have never been able to put up a vegetable compound that would, like Simmons Liver Regulator, promptly and effectively move the Liver to action and at the same time aid (instead of weakening) the digestive powers."

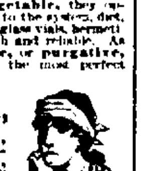
Symptoms such as bitter or bad taste in the mouth; pain in the back, often mistaken for Rheumatism; sour stomach; loss of appetite; bowels alternately costive and lax; headache; loss of memory, with a painful sensation of having failed to do something which ought to have been done; debility; low spirits; a thick yellow appearance of the skin and eyes; a dry cough often mistaken for Consumption, indicate Liver disease, and if not regulated in time great suffering, wretchedness and death will often ensue.

Price $1. Sold by all Druggists. Prepared by J. H. ZEILIN & Co., Philadelphia, Pa.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets The Original LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS. ALWAYS ASK FOR DR. PIERCE'S PELLETS, OR LITTLE SUGAR-COATED PILLS.

Being entirely vegetable, they operate without disturbance to the system, diet, or occupation. Put up in glass vials, hermetically sealed. Always fresh and reliable. As a laxative, alterative, or purgative, these little Pellets give the most perfect satisfaction.



SICK HEADACHE,

Bilious Headache, Dizziness, Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, and all derangements of the stomach and bowels, are promptly relieved and permanently cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. In explanation of the remedial power of these Pellets over so great a variety of diseases, it may truthfully be said that their action upon the system is universal, not a gland or tissue escaping their sanative influence. Sold by druggists, 25 cents a vial. Manufactured by Chemical Laboratory of WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, Buffalo, N. Y.

$500 REWARD

is offered by the manufacturers of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, for a case of Chronic Nasal Catarrh which they cannot cure.

SYMPTOMS OF CATARRH.—Dull, heavy headache, obstruction of the nasal passages, discharges falling from the head into the throat, sometimes profuse, watery, and acrid, at others, thick, tenacious, mucous, purulent, bloody and putrid; the eyes are weak, watery, and inflamed; there is ringing in the ears, deafness, hacking or coughing to clear the throat, expectoration of offensive matter, together with scabs from ulcers; the voice is changed and has a nasal twang; the breath is offensive; smell and taste are impaired; there is a sensation of dizziness, with mental depression, a hacking cough and general debility. Only a few of the above-named symptoms are likely to be present in any one case. Thousands of cases annually, without manifesting half of the above symptoms, result in consumption, and end in the grave. No disease is so common, more deceptive and dangerous, or less understood by physicians.

By its mild, soothing, and healing properties, Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy cures the worst cases of Catarrh, "cold in the head," Coryza, and Catarrhal Headache. Sold by druggists everywhere; 50 cents.

"Untold Agony from Catarrh."

Prof. W. HAUSNER, the famous mesmerist, of Ithaca, N. Y., writes: "Some ten years ago I suffered untold agony from chronic nasal catarrh. My family physician gave me up as incurable, and said I must die. My case was such a bad one, that every day, towards sunset, my voice would become so hoarse I could barely speak above a whisper. In the morning my coughing and clearing of my throat would almost strangle me. By the use of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, in three months, I was a well man, and the cure has been permanent."

"Constantly Hawking and Spitting."

THOMAS J. RUSHING, Esq., 2902 Pine Street, St. Louis, Mo., writes: "I was a great sufferer from catarrh for three years. At times I could hardly breathe, and was constantly hawking and spitting, and for the last eight months could not breathe through the nostrils. I thought nothing could be done for me. Luckily, I was advised to try Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, and I am now a well man. I believe it to be the only sure remedy for catarrh now manufactured, and one has only to give it a fair trial to experience astounding results and a permanent cure."

Three Bottles Cure Catarrh.

ELI ROBBINS, Runyan P. O., Columbia Co., Pa., says: "My daughter had catarrh when she was five years old, very badly. I saw Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy advertised, and procured a bottle for her, and soon saw that it helped her; a third bottle effected a permanent cure. She is now eighteen years old and sound and hearty."

The Exhaustion of Petroleum.

It can hardly be doubted, I fear, that the supply both of oil and gas has now been so largely drawn upon that within less than a score of years scarcely any will be left which can be brought at reasonable cost into the market. The boundaries and extent of the oil regions have been determined. All the sands in which oil will ever be found in such quantities as to be worth working are known, and have been drilled through in various places. It is scarcely possible that any new fields will be discovered which will be comparable, either in extent or productiveness, with those now known. So far back as January, 1883, Professor Lesley pointed out that no petroleum is now being produced in the Devonian rocks, either by the process akin to distillation or otherwise. What has been stored up in the past, a process which probably lasted for millions of years, may go out. But when these reservoirs are exhausted there will be an end of the petroleum supply. "The discovery of a few more pools of 2,000,000 or 3,000,000 each can make but little difference." Mr. Carll, whose opinion on the geology of the oil-bearing districts may be regarded as decisive, has come to a similar conclusion. "There are not at present," he pointed out recently, "any reasonable grounds for expecting the discovery of new fields which will add to the declining products of the old, so as to enable the out-put to keep pace with the shipments of consumption."

The stored petroleum in this region has then been very nearly exhausted. In less than a generation a small part of the population of this continent alone has used up nearly all the valuable stores of energy which had been accumulated during millions of years of the geologic past.

More recent inquiries confirm the conclusions of Professor Lesley and Mr. Carll. The signs of exhaustion in the oil producing regions can now be clearly recognized. During the last four years there has been a steady diminution in the out-put, accompanied by an increase in the price per barrel, which, nevertheless, does not even maintain the nominal annual value of the supply. Mr. Wrigley announced in 1882 that 154,000,000 barrels of oil had already been raised up to the beginning of that year, and expressed the opinion that more than 96,000,000 barrels remained to be raised. In this last estimate he was undoubtedly mistaken, for up to the beginning of 1885, no fewer than 261,000,000 barrels had been raised, and in the year 1885 as many as 21,642,011 barrels (nearly 3,000,000 fewer than in 1884) were obtained. But although the estimate of 1885 of the quantity of oil still remaining fell short of the truth, and though we may admit as possible that even now much more oil remains to be put out than the most experienced geologists suppose, the signs of approaching exhaustion are yearly becoming more unmistakable. The expense of bringing the oil to the surface grows greater year by year, and threatens soon to become so great that the profit of working the oil stores will be evanescent. So soon as that state of things is approached we may be sure that the oilmen's occupation in Pennsylvania and western New York will be gone. It has been stated that the Japanese, unwilling to let the least friction of earth's interior stores be lost, have been known to excavate a vertical shaft to the depth of 600 feet in order to raise a few gallons of oil per day. But in America, when the oil mines are so near exhaustion as this, they will be abandoned; nay, they will be abandoned long before they approach such a condition. With the failure of the oil supply all the collateral branches of industry associated with it will fail, too.—Home Knowledge.

When Sunstroke Is Imminent.

When, during the heated term, one who has been exposed to the sun's heated rays begins to suffer from headache, giddiness, nausea and disturbance of sight, accompanied with sudden and great prostration of the physical forces, sunstroke is probably imminent. If such a one will take time by the forelock and immediately retire to a cool place, making use of some simple restoratives, such as aromatic ammonia, etc., he may be spared further trouble, but if he persists with his business he will doubtless soon become very ill, which illness usually takes the form of heat exhaustion, heat appoplexy or genuine sunstroke, the thermic fever of some writers.

Those who are exhausted by the heat have a cool moist skin, a rapid, weak pulse and respiration movement and the pupil is dilated. In fact the symptoms are those of collapse. These patients will probably recover promptly, an event which may be hastened by the use of a tonic and restorative treatment.

Those who suffer from heat appoplexy frequently become unconscious at the outset. The heart and breathing apparatus is not markedly disturbed and the pupil may be normal, but the unconsciousness deepens and the case runs on to a fatal termination. An artery has been broken in the brain, and poured-out blood pressing on the nerve centres brings about the fatal event. A treatment calculated to draw the blood from the brain to the extremities—hot foot baths, bleeding, etc., promises to be the most useful in such cases.

The thermic fever patient is unconscious and convulsed, and his body temperature may be 108 degrees or 110 degrees F., that is, 10 degrees above normal. The skin of this patient feels as though it would burn your hand when laid thereon. In this case the thorough and prompt application of cold is needed. Ice to the head and cold water to the body generally will be in order. Medical advice should be promptly had in either of the two cases last referred to. Complete recovery from sunstroke is rare, the brain being permanently crippled in many cases. Residence in a cold climate affords some hope for such patients.—Philadelphia Times.

PRESIDENT PIERCE IN ENGLAND.

[New York letter.]

J. S. Oakford, a member of one of the oldest families of Philadelphia, whose ancestor came over with William Penn, was paralyzed May 13 at his lodgings on West Thirty-third street, this city, and recently he was taken to the Roosevelt Hospital, and now he is in a dying condition in a charity ward of that institution. Mr. Oakford has mingled all his life with the best society of Europe and America, and now he is dying like a pauper in a charity hospital.

"Few men, certainly few Americans, have seen life under so many varied and striking aspects as I have. My reminiscences would fill a volume. I have dined with princes, supped with prize-fighters, traded with Indians, attended the receptions of kings and emperors, entertained presidents, and acted as a squire of damsels in distress," said Mr. Oakford to me the other day.

"When ex-President Pierce visited England after his retirement I happened to be living at Sydenham, a few miles out of London. I had then a charming villa near the Crystal Palace for a year; in fact, the grounds adjoined those of the palace."

"How did the President enjoy his visit to England?"

"He was like a schoolboy off on a holiday. He was delighted with everything. I never shall forget the day I gave him a dinner at Greenwich. We rode down in an open carriage and the ex-President was so effusive on the occasion that the very boys on the streets of London noticed it. He threw his arms around my neck and in this strange fashion we drove down Piccadilly, and I was really ashamed of the undignified conduct of our distinguished countryman. Gen. Campbell, of Texas, whom Pierce had appointed American Consul to London, was living near town, and we went to the Derby together. The General was an old campaigner, had fought in the Texan war of independence, and, although nearly 80 years old at the time he was in England, was as straight as an Indian and as game as a Mohawk. When he arrived in England Beverly Tucker, who was at the time our Consul at Liverpool, had very kindly accompanied him up to London after securing rooms for him at Morley's Hotel. They arrived in town about 7 o'clock one evening, and, after stopping in their rooms only long enough to make a hasty toilet, they descended to the dining-room. After dinner Campbell went at once to his rooms, while Tucker remained below to give some instructions about the baggage. Going up stairs in a couple of minutes he found Gen. Campbell in a strange room parleying with a lady. It appears that he had missed his room, and seeing the lady enter one he had followed her, and Tucker heard him say as he came up: 'My good woman, can you tell me where room 65 is?' Tucker drew him out of the room and whispered to him: 'Do you know who that lady is?' 'No, I thought she was one of the chambermaids of the hotel.' 'You have made a dreadful mistake. That lady is the Countess of Erroll,' and before Tucker could stop him the old General had rushed back and apologized for his mistake, saying that he had taken her for a chambermaid. When Tucker met Campbell next morning he told him that the unfortunate mistake on the previous evening had been communicated to the Earl of Erroll, and that he was terribly angry that his lady had been taken for a chambermaid and was going to challenge the American who had been guilty of such conduct. 'I will fight,' said the General, 'but I really had no intention of insulting the lady.' After keeping up the joke for some time, Tucker told Campbell that the duel was only a hoax."

An Important Element

Of the success of Hood's Sarsaparilla is the fact that every purchaser receives a fair equivalent for his money. The familiar headline "100 Doses One Dollar" stolen by imitators, is original with and true only of Hood's Sarsaparilla. This can easily be proven by any one who desires to test the matter. For real economy, buy only Hood's Sarsaparilla. Sold by all druggists.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—MRS. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferers at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub wakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Spreading the Gospel.

"I am picking up all the pins I can find," said Edward Stillwel; "Mamma pays me a penny a hundred, and by the Fourth of July I will have 800 of them, which will make me eight cents for my missionary box." "Well," said Bill Jones, coarsely, "what of that?" "Then," replied Edward Stillwel, for it was he, "Mamma says she will give me a quarter to go to the circus. Don't you wish you might go to the circus also, William?" asked Edward. "Hoh!" was all that Bill Jones said. Because he went to the circus, too, always attended both performances. Sometimes he carried water for the elephant; in that case he got a twenty-five cent seat, same as Edward. But as a rule, he preferred to hook under the canvas, because then he got a fifty cent seat, and spent his missionary money for pink lemonade, made of water, moisture, and dampness in equal parts.—Burdette.
